Emma and Elien, both Belgian teachers, using the courses and the YouTube Channel

The Flipping First courses are accessible!

Subscribe to the YouTube Channel and use the Moodle courses

Now that all the course material is realized and the handbook is ready, you can explore the courses in the Moodle using this link: <https://bit.ly/2JPItdQ> with the guest account, no password is needed.

From every country you'll be able to access and explore 1 course. If you're interested in accessing the full site with all the learning material, you can ask an account and password to one of the project partners by email. You can also subscribe on the YouTube channel using this link <https://bit.ly/2JAGTbp>.

Thanks to our Erasmus+ funded project, all the partners have the opportunity to organize multiplier events, so that teachers can learn how to create their own flipped classroom lessons, and explore and the Flipping First courses.

The INNEO event was conducted for a group of people, including representatives of the teaching community, officials and local business owners. The event took place 20 April in Rzeszów Hubertus and gathered a large group of participants. After the presentation of the project participants asked questions, later after the break there was time for discussion and joint networking.

Flipping First multiplier event took place in SZAMALK-Salesian Post Secondary School, Budapest on 24 May, 2018. The total number of participants is 60 teachers from 19 vocational training schools. During the event the Flipping First project results were presented. Particular emphasis was laid on the Flipped classroom methodology.

The first event in ProWork took place in June, with the educational department of the municipality. This event was held for 15 representatives of the educational institutes to raise awareness. In Artevelde University College, there was a presentation for teacher training students on 22th of May, another event is planned in August. Jaitek will also plan some events during the summer.

Spring- and summer multiplier events

Learners using our Flipping First courses can also test the knowledge they gathered in entrepreneurship and tourism, by doing 1 or more tests included in the courses.

The results give a clear view on how efficient and effective the courses are for the students.

Are your students interested in learning how to become an entrepreneur and enhance their entrepreneurial skills?

Let them take the courses on Entrepreneurship and Tourism.

They can learn independently and at their own pace by subscribing the
